The captain of the City of Momphin says when he left, on Monday, jour fleet at the mouth of the Yazoo had moved up and attacked Haines' Bluff. The enanouade was very distinctly heard. Only one gunbont unil two rams were left to guard the canal. He had heard nothing of the reported fight at Greenwood; between the Chillicothe and a battery.

The steamer Era has arrived from Memphis, and brings Wednesday evening's news. A detailed account of the fight between the Chillicothe and the rebel batteries at Orcenwood is given, differing in no essential particulars from that already tolegraphed. It is supposed the batteries will have to be taken by an infantry force land, ng and attacking in the rear. What force the rebels have to repel an attack is not the partery at a point below ruzou city, which it said to be much more formidable. in the number and size of gans and in the position, as the bluffs, are much higher. # DAILY GAZETTE.

Saturday Night's Report.

WASHINGTON, Merch 17. Special to the N. Y. Tribune .- Maj. Gen. Fremont left for New York to-night, his interview with the Secretary of War this morning having proved unsatisfactory.

Before the adjournment of congress several leading senators were assured on the highest possible authority that he was about to be restored to active service in a field that would satisfy his friends. He remained here two or three weeks, at the express request of the government, un-der the promise that he should have a certain command, suited to his rank and position: but it now seems that he will not be assigned to it at present, although the President and Secretary of War desire that he should be, the bitter opposition of Gen.' Halleck having blocked if not defeated the

Gen. Fremont distinctly signified to the government his readiness to accept any command involving the early probability of meeting the enemy in the field, but by the course of the general-in-chief he is con-tinued in the enforced idleness so repugnant to his nature, and so unsatisfactory to his friends,

Catro, March 21. Special to Chicago Journal,-The hospital steamer City of Memphia arrived this morning, from Young's Point last Monday. She had on board 360 sick; thirty-six died on the way op—seven within the last twenty-four hours. The general condition of the sick is at present improving. N. D. Turner is the physician in charge. The steamer proceeded at once to St. Löuis. Among the dead bodies put off here for. burial are Thos. Lacey, company D, 113th Illinois; James H. Mankes, F, 118th Illi-nois; Francis Kellerson, F, 118th Illinois;

John Watts, F. 23d Wisconsin, The captain of the City of Memphis says when he left, on Monday, our fleet at the mouth of the Yazoo had moved up and attacked Haines' Bluff. The cannonade was very distinctly heard. Only one gunboat and two rams were left to guard the canal. He had heard nothing of the reported light at Greenwood, between the Chillicothe and a battery. The steamer Era has arrived from Mem-phic, and brings Wednesday evening's news. A detailed account of the fight between the Chillicothe and the rebel batte-ries at Greenwood is given, differing in no essential particulars from that already telegraphed. It is supposed the batteries will have to be taken by an infantry force landing and attacking in the rear. What force the rebels have to repel an attack is not er pastery at a point below razou ony, which is said to be much more formidable in the number and size of guns and in the position, as the bluffs are much higher. urther news from Yazoo is eagerly await

A wood train from Jackson to Humboldt was halled by citizens on Sunday last, and informed that guerrillas were in Humboldt, and that they had burned two houses. Nothing has been heard from there since. A foraging party from Germantown were fixed upon by rebels, and three of their party wounded. The th and 18th Indiana regiments, part of Gen. Carr's brigade, have arrived from St. Genevieve, Mo.— They go below; also the John Rains, one of Gen. Ellet's fleet.

HILTON HEAD, March 16. Latest intelligence from the Black Brigade, which is now marching into Florida, is that they have taken several important h many prisoners, and captured onints. w large quantities of munitions and supplies, and are still driving the enemy before them.

The expected arrival here of another army corps, said to be Burnside's, the departure of which is noticed by the Richmond papers, has created fresh hopes and addi-tional enthusiasm among our troops.

A Charleston paper speaks of the expect-ed arrival in that city of some distinguished military characters, to witness the expected battle at that point.

Cincinnari, March 20. Special to Chicago Tribune.—Parties who arrived to day from Nashville, bring the information that General Rosecrans has reliable advices that there are seventeen reg iments of rebel cavalry, from three to seven hundred strong, each, encamped in Hawk ins county, Tennessee, and that they are preparing for a raid into Kentucky. They are Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi cavare, and they intend coming through a gap near Pound Gap. Nothing has been heard from the Noble county expedition to day. New York, March 20. A Murfreesboro dispatch to the Herald, dated yesterday, says that the rimors here-tofore given of the proposed rebei invasion of Kentucky, are not groundless. I learn from a southern man who left Chattancogs that the rebel troops known to have left Virginia did not reinforce Bragg, but concontrated at Knoxville, Tennessee. Yesterday a body of four hundred rebels crossed the Comberland at Rowensky, and it was reported that a large force was following. It is suspected that the invasion has already begun. La Crosse, Wis., March 21. The river is open to Lake Pepin. The steamer Keokuk left here yesterday and went through to the foot of Lake Pepin. Headquartens Army of the Potomac, March 20,

The Richmond Examiner of yesterday has an extraordinary leader, the tone of which is evidently intended to prepare the public mind of the south for serious reverses on the line of the Rappahannock. It tions of the federal army under Hooker are now commenced, and either a decisive battle or a retreat of Lee must be the speedy consequence. The latter contingency is possible but not probable, and another heavy struggle over the line of the Rappa hannock may be safely anticipated.

After speculating upon the supposed plan of Gen. Hooker, and the strength and possibility of the success of Lee's forces, ne editor remarks: "If, however, the confederate force is not sufficiently numerous to prevent the completion of the mancenvre, it is supposed that no course remains but to fall back upon some point nearer Richmond, and give the enemy battle at a greater distance from his base." There is nothing of importance from any scene of active operations in the field.

A bill to organize a volunteer navy has been introduced into the rebel senate. The rebel senate has resolved that the president shall issue a proclamation dis-suading the further cultivation of cotton and tobacco, and enjoining the planting of grain.
The Chattanooga Rebel of the 11th says

Porever float that standard sheet-Where breathes the foe but falls before us? With Freedom's soil beneath our feel, well And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

Much fault is found with President Lincoln for arresting persons charged with opposing the government in its attempts to suppress the rebellion; and also for suspending the writ of habeas corpus. The proclamation of martial law in 'New Orleans is a case in point which seems to justify the course that he has taken. After the proclamation was issued by Gen. Jackson, which was dated December 16th, 1814, an editor of a paper was arrested for writing and publishing an improper article, by them, as open to the same objections and conveyed away by armed men. Application was immediately made to Judge Hall, of the district court of the United States, for a writ of habeas corpus, that the party might be discharged. The writ was awarded, and the return made thereto was simply an order to an inferior officer commanding the arrest of Judge Hall, for issuing the same. Six days after he was sent from the city, and enjoined to remain away until the ratification of peace. Judge Hall afterwards fined Gen. Jackson a thousand dollars for contempt of court. In discussing the propriety of remitting the fine, together with the competency of military arrests, martial law and the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, in times of public | had the legal title, and the court held that | danger, Hon, Stephen A. KANSAS INDIAN BRIGADE.—Col. Phillips of Kansas, (believed to be the well-known Tribune correspondent of border rullian times,) is now engaged in organizing a brigade of Indians, to consist of five or six regiments, suitably armed and equipped. It is expected to start from Lawrence, in Kansas, before long, in a southerly direc tion. Its first destination will probably be the Cherokee country, where the aboriginal traitors require attention, but there is reaso to believe that New Mexico and oven Texas may yet prove the goal of the expedition.

We do not regard this question as of the least importance, in relation to the work under contemplation. If, it, were, of any, consequence now, it would be of no less consequence in all future time, and the grounds might lie in their present unsightly condition indefinitely. But it is enough for our present purpose to know that the ground is in fact public ground, and if so, the city may lawfully exercise a supervision and control over it under the charter, in like manner as over the public streets, the fee of which rests in a multitude of different owners, subject to the easement of the public.

What an awful term! The mere mention of it has well-nigh frightened many weak-minded persons out of their senses. Since this war commenced, this fearful word has been a very conspicuous one in the vocabulary of rebels and copperheads. The active conspirators believed that they could use this term to good advantage—and so when the Union armics began to pour in upon them, they said one to another,-We'll call them names," and the word in question was adopted. "We'll call them abolitionists, and that will make them scatter." Now, the rebels and their allies, the copperheads, can only think, and write, and talk on abolitionism! They have shouted this term lustily until they have grown fairmarks. It was reported that he gave the abolitionists a drubbing ! Perhaps he meant nothing by what he said. They sought to overthrow the curse of slaveryand this was a laudable object, but they aimed to do it in a legal and proper manner. In common with all good citizens who believed more in freedom than in slavery, who held that human chattelism was a curse, a blot upon our otherwise fair fame, detrimental to our interests as a nation, and a drawback upon the sacred cause of liberty throughout the world, they felt called upon by the instincts of a mmon humanity, by the divine and human attributes of justice and mercy, to urge upon land the propriety and absolute necessity

At about midnight, a son of Mr. Taylor, about twelve years of age, got up in his sleep and walked out of the car and off the train, which was moving at full speed. None of the family noticed his movement, and his absence was not perceived for some time, when it was discovered, the only trace that could be got was from one of the passengers, who had seen him go out of the car. Finding that he was not on the train, his parents suspected what had happened, knowing his habit of sleep walking, and the father immediately started back in search of the boy. He followed the track for some ten or twelve miles, as we understand, examining the road on both sides, when he finally met the young man, safe and sound, coming on toward Illinois, and by this time fairly awake.

he dreamed he got up in his sleep and walked off of the train, and that he found himself, when he awoke, walking on the railroad track, without his hat, the snow blowing in his face, and doubtless somewhat hewildered. He says he cried awhile, but concluded that would not do any good, and so pinned his shawl over his head and trayeled along. He says he knew, when he woke up, that he was going the wrong way, and turned around. The father and son arrived here on Thursday night last, the boy being entirely unburt, having perform. ed, we venture to say, the most nerilous and unheard of feat that the annals of railroad traveling or of somnabulism can furnish .-Menard (Ill.) Legislative Summary.

SATURDAY, March 21. SENATE .- Senator Bartlett offered a resoution instructing the committee on state affairs to inquire what legislation, if any is necessary in relation to balances which are owed the state by counties; also, instructing the same committee to make the same inquiry relative to the taxation of lands selected in this state under the homestend act of congress. Both resolutions were adopted. Senator Lawrence offered a joint resolution, which lies over, for so amending the constitution as to authorize the legislature to reconstruct the supreme court, making five judges instead of three. stamps was voted down after amendment, whereupon Senator Hudd renewed the original resolution.

A large number of bills were introduced and a large number concurred in or passed. Bartlett for the organization of military companies for home defense; one by Senstor Hamilton to amend R. S. "of claims and delivery of personal property;" one by Senator Chandler to amend the charter of the Beloit and Madison Railroad Company Among the bills concurred in was one to amend the charter of the Platteville and Calamine railroad company; to provide for the inspection, repair and control of plank, gravel and other roads; and to amend ., of proceedings against debtors by at-Among the Senate bills passed was on Arbitrary Arrests.

Much fault is found with President Lincoln for arresting persons charged with opposing the government in its attempts to suppress the rebellion; and also for suspending the writ of habeas corpus. The proclamation of martial law in New Orleans is a case in point which seems to justify the course that he has taken. After the proclamation was issued by Gen. Jackson, which was dated December 16th, 1814, an editor of a paper was arrested for writing and publishing an improper article, and conveyed away by armed men. Application was immediately made to Judge Hall, of the district court of the United States, for a writ of habeas corpus, that the party might be discharged. The writ was awarded, and the return made thereto was simply an order to an inferior officer commanding the arrest of Judge Hall, for issuing the same. Six days after he was sent from the city, and enjoined to remain away until the ratification of peace. Judge Hall afterwards fined Gen. Jackson a thousand dollars for contempt of court. In discussing the propriety of remitting the fine together with the competency of military arrests, martial law and the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, in times of public danger, Hon. Stephen A. Douglas, made the following remarks in the house of representatives. See Congressional Globe, Jan. 10th, 1844.

"The necessity and the glorious effect resulting from the cause which that necessity prompted, were acknowled by the whole country, and he would even say by whole civilized world. Then, as far as this He cared not whether Gen. Jackson violated the constitution or not. He cared not whether Gen. Jackson suspended all civil authority or not.

If his acts were necessary to the defense of the country, that necessity was above all law. Gen. Jackson hazarded everything; he hazarded both life and reputation or that step, which might render him immor-tal if he saved the county, or, on the contrary, make him ignominious and a by word and a reproach; and the man that dared to do that deserved the protection and plaudits of his country. He did not envy the feelings of that man who could get up and talk calmly and cooly under such circomstances about rules of court, and technicalities of proceedings, when the city might be in flames, and the utmost barbarity might be committed.

What were the rules of the court but mere cobwebs when they found an enemy with his caunon at the doors of their courts and they saw the flames encircling the cu-pola? Talk then about the rules of courts, and the formalities of proceeding? The man that would do this would fiddle while (Sensation.) He could not envy any man the possession of such stoical philosophy. Talk about illegality! Talk about formalities! Why, there was but one formality to be observed, and that was the formality of directing the cannon, and destroying the enemy, regardless of the means, whether it be by the seizure of cotton bags, or the seizure of persons, i the necessity of the case required it. The God of nature has conferred this right on men and nations; and, therefore, let him not be told that it was unconstitutional .--To defend the country, let him not be told that it was unconstitutional to use the necessary means. The constitution was adonted for the protection of the country, and under that constitution the nation had the right to exercise all the powers that were necessary for the protection of the country. If martial law was necessary to the salva tion of the country, martial law was legal for that purpose. If it was necessary for a judge, for a preservation of order, to pun ish for a contempt, he thought it was necessary for a general to exercise control over his cannon, to imprison traite-s, and to arrest spies, and to intercept communications with the enemy. If this was necessary, this was legal."

KANSAS INDIAN BRIGADE.-Col. Phillips of Kanaas, (believed to be the well-known Tribune correspondent of border ruffian times.) is now engaged in organizing a brigade of Indians, to consist of five or six regiments, suitably armed and equipped. It is expected to start from Lawrence, in Kansas, before long, in a southerly direc tion. Its first destination will probably be the Cherokee country, where the aboriginal traitors require attention, but there is reaso to believe that New Mexico and even Texas may yet prove the goal of the expe-

THE NEW CALIFORNIA SENATOR.-Mr. John Conness, the new senstor from California, is said to be in favor of freeing the slaves of rebels, and if need be arming them.

HARBOR DEFENSES .- A bill has been reported formally in the Massachuseets legis-000 for coast and harbor defenses.

For the Janesville Gazette. The Legal Title to the Public Grounds in Janesville,

To the Common Council of the City of Junesville:-The undersigned would beg leave to submit a few suggestions upon the legal points started at your last meeting, when the subject of the improvement of the court house square was under discussion. It was thought by some that perhaps it might be material to know where the legal title to these grounds vests.

We do not regard this question as of the least importance, in relation to the work under contemplation. If it were of any consequence now, it would be of no less consequence in all future time, and the grounds might lie in their present ausighty condition indefinitely. But it is enough for our present purpose to know that the ground is in fact public ground, and if so, the city may lawfully exercise a supervision and control over it under the charter, in like manner as over the public streets, the fee of which rests in a multitude of different owners, subject to the easement of the

But we will advert to the question as to where the fee of this land is now vested, a question easily answered.

I .- The land was entered by Murray, Hazard and Spaulding as commissioners of Rock county, in trust for the county. They undertook to plat the land, but in so doing failed to observe the requirements of the statutes in relation to village plats, and the plat in fact filed by them is insufficient to make out an express dedication of the ground in question for public squares, and we are to lay out of view the plat so filed by them, as open to the same objections which were held material in 2 Wis. R. 153. II.—But there may be a dedication by parol, by acts showing a deliberate intention to dedicate, which will pass to the public the beneficial use of the property so dedicated to the same extent as if there had been an express dedication in the forms of the statute, but when the dedication is to talk on abolitionism! They have shouted be inferred from the acts of the dedicator showing an intention to dedicate, those acts the nature and extent of the parol dedication. This was decided in substance in 9th Wisconsin Reports 240, and Gardner vs. Tisdale, 2 Wis. 153. This last was an action of ejectment and the only question was who had the legal title, and the court held that | poor abolitionists! We hope they will surthe plat of Beloit not being in conformity to statute was insufficient of itself to convey to the public the legal title, which remained in Gardner representing the original owner, but they declare that whether the dedication was express or by parol such dedication could be no defense for Tisdale, a permanent incumbrancer. In other words, if or parol dedication is no defense to a stranger against whom I bring an action of eject-ment for building a house in the road. III .- The fee of the land in question still rests in Murray, Hazard and Spaulding, trustees of Rock Co., they never having conveyed it, or made an express statutory dedication of it, but there has been a parol dedication in fact, the extent of which is explained by referring to the attending circumstances. The character of this dedication came under discussion in the case of Hutson vs. Board of Supervisors of Rock county, and in that case the supreme court were of opinon that Rock county was precluded by the parol dedication of her agents and trustees, from asserting a right to use the ground for the purposes of a jail, no such intention temporaneous with the original dedication, the extent that we are to infer that the right to maintain a court house on these grounds. county may lawfully still assert that right.

allude to ch. 75 pr. laws 1853, in which the legislature undertake to vacate the block on which the old court house stood, and restore to Rock county its original rights in the land so vacated. This act was passed to avoid certain results apprehended from the discussion in Hutson vs the Board of Supervisors, but a moment's reflection will make it apparent that the act is mere brutum fulmen. There was no plat to be vacated, and whether there was or not, the public had acquired rights beyond the disturbing reach of the legislature, which rights had been affirmed with precision by the supreme court in Hutson vs Board of Superisors. No individual or corporation can avoid the effect of a deed or dedication of land by obtaining an act of the legislature in his behalf. A fair offset to this act is the subsequent act of the legislature purporting to vest in the city the fee of all the

But were this act of 1853 valid it would not be of the slightest consequence. We not faultless, they are much nearer perfechave no contest with Rock county about tion than the traiters and croakers who dethe legal title to that block of land. We have before admitted that the legal title to all the land remains in the trustees of the county. We are not preparing to permanently encumber it, appropriate it for meat shops, or any other purpose. We find it public ground in fact, we know that the with a formidable prow, and will be providually be beneficial use of ded with four engines. Our informant de--Hon. Edmund Rice, president of the St. public ground in fact, we know that the the ground, for the case of Hotson vs Supervisors settled that. We do not deny the right of the county to maintain a court house on the land, as we think we are to infer that that right was reserved in the purpose of the company to continue the original parol dedication, but we do insist the construction of their branch road to that we shall be allowed to beautify and protect a spot under the city guardianship as public ground, as long as we foot the

Abolit ionism:

What an awful term! The mere mention of it has well-nigh frightened many weak-minded persons out of their senses. Since this war commenced, this fearful word has been a very conspicuous one in the vocabulary of rebels and copperheads. The active conspirators believed that they could use this term to good advantage—and so upon them, they said one to another,-' We'll call'them names." and the word in question was adopted. "We'll call them abolitionists, and that will make them scatter." Now, the rebels and their allies, the this term lustily until they have grown fairly hoarse. Occasionally a stray republican this city, a republican was called on for re- cold. marks. It was reported that he gave the abolitionists a drubbing! Perhaps he vive this fiery ordeal.

We wish to propound a few questions for the consideration of those who stand in such great fear, thinking, as they probably do, that these wicked schemers, that bear so terrible a name, are bent on the overthrow of our government.

The abolitionists, as an organized politifew extremists, they have ever been true late session of congress." to the constitution and the Union. They sought to overthrow the curse of slaveryand this was a laudable object, but they to be shipped to Boston and New York. aimed to do it in a legal and proper manner. In common with all good citizens who believed more in freedom than in slavery, who held that human chattelism was a curse, a blot upon our otherwise fair fame, detrimental to our interests as a nation, and a drawback upon the sacred cause of liberty throughout the world, they felt called upon by the instincts of a common humanity, by the divine and human attributes of justice and mercy, to urge upon land the propriety and absolute necessity having been manifested when the original of putting some check upon the audacious parol dedication was made. But we are of and continually encroaching power of slave: opinion that inasmuch as the building of a ry! Were they wrong in this? Had they gers, who had seen him go out of the car. court house on the land was nearly con. not a perfect right, as loval and good citi. zens, to discuss the mighty question of huthis circumstance explains the intention of man slavery? Was it not their constituthe agents and trustees of the county, to tional privilege to petition congress for the of the boy. He followed the track for some abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia? Had they not a right to pray for was reserved, and hence we infer that the the freedom of the territories? With the history of the abolitionists, for the last 20 In this connection it may be proper to years, tolerably fresh in my recollection, 1 take it upon myself to suggest that they have been "more sinned against than sinning." What has been their course since this war commenced? Are they to be found in the ranks of rebels, or nesting with copperheads? No. They are all arrayed on the side of the government, where the masses of them have ever stood. Wendell Phillips, whose words have burned into the very heart of slavery, though heretefore an ultraist on some points, has borne himself lovally in this fearful contest, and his words have been "half battles" on behalf of the government assailed rudely by traitors. Gerrit Smith, in a recent brief note to John Van Buren, says :- "I believe with you that the rebellion can and should be put down very speedily. We should all feel that until it is put down, democrats, republicans and abolitionists have nothing else to do than to put it down." Our candid opinion is, that though the abolitionists are

That she is built for the rebels, there is no doubt - and he took special pains to ascertain the truth. These startling facts, as well as others which he has found out concerning the numerous iron clad and other steamers which are be ing built in other parts of England, will be, if they have not already been, laid before the U.S. government.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce, March 14.

THE STARS AND OUR BANNER .- James T. Brady, in a recent speech, alluded to a visit to a room in the Vatican at Rome, upon the ceiling of which the flags of all nations were to be seen. When he saw the Stars and Stripes he asked himself the question why it was that our fathers were the first to put stars on their flag? The only answer that could be given was that our fathers looked up to God for help, that riding in, yet he could not stand it to ride they saw the stars, and planted them in our more than three or four miles at a time.

The sanitary commission acknowledges the receipt of $2,236 from generous American citizens in Chili, South America. It came in the form of a draft on England, which netted $3,658.84 in currency. In acknowledging the receipt of this donation, Dr. Bellows says, "The Pacific coast has given three times as much to the sanitary commission as the Atlantic coast."

The export of specie since July 1st amounts to $44,326,000. Up to the same structing the same committee to make the date in 1862, the total was $3,632,000. Hence, the increased export this year amounts to $35,793,000.

The imports of foreign goods at the port of New York, for the week ending March 12, were $1,925,383 against $1,920,936 for the same week last year, and $945,885 for Senator Clark's resolution for more postage the corresponding week of 1861.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.-The supreme court of the United States has decided that the stocks and bonds of the general gov ernment cannot be taxed by the states. The case was that of the state of New York against the Bank of Commerce. All held by the bank should be taxed, and the bank appealed to the United States supreme court. ROBBERY AT MADISON. - The Patriot gives the following account of a successful and daring robbery at the American House in that city, Friday night: The burglars entered the rooms Nos. 2, 3, 7 and 8, the occupants of which had locked the doors before retiring rorest. Rooms 2 and 3 are joint rooms and were occupied by Messrs. C. W. Day ling and J. S. Baker, the well known agents of Mr. Eben Phelps, whip manufacturers of Westfield, Mass., and Messrs. Downs and Barrett, hoop skirt manufacturers, of Birmingham, Conn. They stole from the former gentleman $250, which was in his coat pocket, and from the latter $17,-the balance of his money, together with his watch and chain, having fortunately been placed between the two bed-ticks. Both gentle-men have the idea that they were complete y stupeded by chloroform during the robery. Room No. 7, occupied by Mr. Smith, was entered, and his carpet bag out open but he had considerately placed his money amounting to between $200 and $300, in his stocking, thus saving it from the bur-glars' clutches, who, in their efforts to find t, had strewn his clothes all over the room. Room No. 8, occupied by Hon. Mr. McCul lum, from Beaver Dam, was also entered, and they stole from him $47, and so stupefied him that he is yet suffering from its effects. No clue to the burglars has yet been got.

Legislative Summary.

To-Day's Report,

SATURDAY, March 21. SENATE. - Senator Bartlett offered a reso lution instructing the committee on state affairs to inquire what legislation, if any, is necessary in relation to balances which are owed the state by counties; also, insame inquiry relative to the taxation of lands selected in this state under the homestead act of congress. Both resolutions were adopted. Senator Lawrence offered a joint resolution, which lies over, for so amending the constitution as to authorize the legislature to reconstruct the supreme court, making five judges instead of three. stamps was voted down after amendment. whereupon Senator Hudd renewed the original resolution.

A large number of bills were introduced and a large number concurred in or passed. Among the former was a bill by Sepator Bartlett for the organization of military companies for home defense; one by Sens tor Hamilton to amend R. S. "of claims the state courts had decided that the stocks and delivery of personal property;" one by Senator Chandler to amend the charter of the Beloit and Madison Railroad Company.

Among the bills concurred in was one to amend the charter of the Platteville and Calamine railroad company; to provide for the inspection, repair and control of plank Whipple, of the 19th Wisconsin, captured gravel and other roads; and to amend R , of proceedings against debtors by attachment.

Among the Senate bills passed was one to amend act of 1862, suspending sale of certain lands mortgaged to the state or held by volunteers; and one to carry into execution the provisions of the act of congress, granting lands for agricultural colleges.

ASSEMBLY.—A large number of leaves of absence until Monday were granted. Bills were introduced providing for fees and compensation of clerks of boards of supervisors; to repeal law of '59 and retore chapter of Revised Statutes respecting collection of demands against vessels: to amend section 5 of chapter 38 of the Revised Statates, concerning vagrants; to amend law aiding volunteers' families so as to provide, in cases where parents dependent upon their sons for support, and have two or more sons in the service, that such parents, if the eldest son is killed, may draw aid on account of the next younges son; requiring county judges and other officers to file statements from their dockets in certain cases; to amend section 12 of chapter 140 of the Revised Statutes, in regard to miscellaneous proceedings in civil cases; for collection of subscriptions for volunteers' families and volunteers' bounties; and to repeal chapter 386 of the laws of '62, concerning excise.

A considerable portion of the session was occupied on the bill codifying the school laws. The bill was prepared by the state superintendent of public instruction. by Messrs. Sanborn and Barron, it was read a thid time and passed.
